GREAT DAY.

Knights of St. John Held Their Grand Commandery in This City.

By-Laws Changed to Make the Sessions Two Years Apart.

Religious, Business and Social Features Were of Much Interest.

STREET PARADE WAS IMPOSING

The Kentucky Commandery of the Knights of St. John, one of the strongest Catholic Fraternal societies in the United States, held their annual State convention in this city last Sunday, and the event had religious, business and social sides. More than 600 uniformed Knights took part in the street parade, and perhaps as many more visiting Knights were not in uniform. Many of the visitors were accompanied by ladies and children. The visitors came from Covington, Newport, Maysville and other points in Eastern Kentucky. Many arrived by boat on Saturday evening, while others arrived on early trains on Sunday morning.

Local Knights and delegates assembled at St. Boniface's church for an early mass. After the mass they repaired to the school adjoining the church, and spent the remainder of the forenoon in the transaction of necessary business. Grand President William T. Hohnhorst, of Covington, occupied the chair. Some time was spent in the reading of officers' reports and the disposal of other routine matters. Delegates from fifteen commanderies took part in the deliberations. All the reports showed that the Knights of St. John in Kentucky were sound financially and socially.

The Committee on By-Laws recommended very few changes, and the convention concurred in all the recommendations. The most important change was to hold biennial instead of annual conventions. The next State Commandery will meet at Newport in 1912.

The election of Grand officers brought the business session to a close. The result was as follows:

Spiritual Adviser—Right Rev. C. P. Mases, Bishop of Covington.

President—William T. Hohnhorst, Covington.

First Vice President—Clem Wiegand, Louisville.

Second Vice President—Cyrille Cattellier, Cincinnati.

Secretary—Frank F. Lueke, Covington.

Treasurer—George Benz, Bellevue.

Judge Advocate—Frank Brinkman, Louisville.

Sergeant-at-Arms—John R. Fox, Louisville.

The Grand President, two Vice Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer and Judge Advocate were chosen to serve as Grand Trustees. Capt. P. J. Breen, of Louisville, installed the officers. The following Knights were chosen delegates to the Supreme convention, which will meet at Cedar Point, Ohio, June 19 to 23: Col. H. H. Reilman, Covington; Martin Stepanay, Newport; Frank F. Lueke, Covington; Clem Wiegand, Frank Brinkman and P. J. Breen, Louisville; William Weberschlaege, Bellevue; M. A. Swift, Maysville; William T. Hohnhorst, Covington; Joseph B. Ahel and William Rueff, Louisville; Robert Ellerman, Newport; and Frank Johneman, Covington.

While the business session was in progress the members of the Uniform Rank attended a high mass in St. Boniface's church. Arrayed in full uniforms and with flashing swords the Knights presented an imposing appearance. After the mass the Knights dispersed for dinner. At 1:30 o'clock the uniformed Knights assembled for the grand street parade. Market street, east of Preston, was the point of assembly. The fifteen commanderies, aggregating 600 men, lost no time in falling into line, and headed by a squad of mounted police and a brass band followed this line of march: Market street to Jackson; south to Green, east past St. Boniface convent and church to Clay; south to Walnut; east past St. John's church to Shelby; south to Broadway, passing St. Martin's church; east to Underhill street and thence to Baxter avenue and Phoenix Hill Park.

At the park uniformed and ununiformed Knights were tendered a reception and luncheon. The Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Elizabeth, an adjunct of the Knights of St. John, furnished a tempting luncheon. For several hours the visitors and local Knights and ladies enjoyed themselves in social conversation. All of the visitors were loud in praise of Louisville's hospitality.

The ladies of St. Elizabeth's Auxiliary who served the luncheon were Mesdames Joseph Breen, Catherine Peter, Elizabeth Botz, Elizabeth Biglow, M. Mohlenkamp, M. Mullenschaeger, Elizabeth Lodkenkemper, M. Hollenkamp, M. Friedman and Miss Anna Gosmann. They were assisted by Mesdames Anna and Josephine Hillerich, Susan Pfister, Magdalena Rieger, Barbara Retterer, Mary Henle, Nellie Fisher, Lillie Fox and Frank Fleck.

BRIGHTER DAYS

Have Dawned For Ireland, Says Noted Galway Priest.

The Rev. Father McHugh, of Galway, Ireland, was the chief guest and principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Irish Fellowship Club of Chicago last Saturday afternoon. Among other things Father McHugh said: "A new Ireland is rising out of the depths of English slavery like a star in the firmament. There is no country in the world that has made such progress as Ireland for the last twenty-five years. The chief reason for this is the freedom of land tenure, which has been responsible for a revival of industry and education. The land is just emerging from the darkness of the penal code. Ireland became subject to England and was forced to recognize Henry VII. as King, because it lacked a strong central power, able to unite all the tribes and clans. With the country in that state, the wily Saxon, under a plan of extending side, crossed the channel and obtained a foothold. The greatest battle has been the struggle of the remnant of Ireland against oppression and for freedom of thought. The history of the country is written in the ivy covered ruins that spread through the land."

Col. John I. Martin, former Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives, was another guest of the Irish Fellowship Club. He spoke on the life of Major Gen. James Shields. He said in part: "He came to this country and served it both in war and peace. As a school teacher, as Legislator, as State Auditor, member of the Illinois Supreme Court, members of the House of Representatives, and as United States Senator, he served his adopted land in time of peace. In time of war his biography stands among the bravest and most patriotic."

CATHOLICS LEAD.

Census Report Shows Big Numbers in Larger Cities.

According to the United States census of religious bodies for 1906, the aggregate number of members or communicants of all religious denominations in continental United States was 32,936,445. Of these the Roman Catholics alone had 12,672,142 as against 20,287,742. Of the total membership of the Roman Catholic church 27.9 per cent were found in cities with a population of more than 300,000.

It is seen therefore that the number of members of the Roman Catholic church reported in cities of the first class was considerably more than double the number reported by all Protestant bodies, while outside of the principal cities the number reported by the Catholics was only a little over one-third of the number credited to the Protestants. Of the total number of communicants or members reported for the principal cities by all denominations 6,307,529 or 60 per cent, belonged to the Roman Catholic church, while 3,925,341 or 37.4 belonged to Protestant bodies.

YOUNG HEROINE.

New orkers are congratulating Miss Annie Burke, who presides over a news-stand at the One Hundred and Sixteenth street station of the great subway, for her pluck and bravery. Last Saturday an aged man, overcome by vertigo, fell on the track in the subway and two other men went to his assistance. They were aiding him to safety when the roar of the approaching train was heard. Miss Burke grabbed a lantern, ran toward the approaching train and succeeded in stopping it within a few feet of the man, who seemed doomed to destruction. Miss Burke is only twenty-one years old.

THE OLDEST ELK.

Daniel O'Connell, of Owosso, Mich., has the distinction of being the oldest member of the Elks fraternity in America. He was in his one hundred and sixth year when initiated recently, and he expects to take part in the Grand Lodge reunion in Detroit next July. This seems not an unreasonable hope on the old man's part, as at present he takes a walk of ten miles once a week without any difficulty. Many men of half his age would hate to have that task before them. If spared for the July reunion he will be the subject of especial honors at the hands of his brethren of the Elks.

ARCHBISHOP'S HOMECOMING.

The home coming of His Grace Archibishop Moeller will be a memorable event. A meeting of Cincinnati priests was held last week to inaugurate preparations for a splendid welcome to their beloved head returning from his first visit to Rome and his four months' travel through Europe and the Holy Land. A committee, composed of twenty priests, was appointed at this meeting with power to make all necessary arrangements. It was decided as a testimonial of regard for the Archibishop to present him on his return with a fine automobile.

The ladies of St. Elizabeth's Auxiliary who served the luncheon were Mesdames Joseph Breen, Catherine Peter, Elizabeth Botz, Elizabeth Biglow, M. Mohlenkamp, M. Mullenschaeger, Elizabeth Lodkenkemper, M. Hollenkamp, M. Friedman and Miss Anna Gosmann. They were assisted by Mesdames Anna and Josephine Hillerich, Susan Pfister,

MYSTERIOUS

Disappearances of Little Alma Kellner Apparently Solved.

Skeleton With Portions of the Decomposed Flesh Is Found.

People of St. John's Parish Are Loyal in Support of the Pastor.

REWARDS FOR MAN'S CONVICTION

The people of Louisville have been disturbed very seriously this week by the finding of the skeleton of a child in the long forgotten sub-cellars beneath the music room of St. John's school. It is claimed that the skeleton is that of little Alma Kellner, who has been missing from her home on Broadway, near Hancock, since December 8. Circumstances lead the police authorities to believe that the body is that of the little girl, but to many the identification is neither convincing nor satisfactory. Certain facts stand out prominently: Alma Kellner has never been seen alive since she left the home of her parents on December 8. The skeleton of a child with bits of decomposing flesh adhering to it was found in the sub-cellars of the parochial school on Monday. The clothing and shoes found with the skeleton have never been satisfactorily identified by the parents of the missing child.

It is also true that Josephine Wendlind, a former janitor of the church, has disappeared. His wife has been taken into custody as an accessory to murder by the local detectives. Wendlind and his wife are French. They had been only two years in America and had learned very little English. Ladies of the Altar Society of St. John's parish who came in frequent contact with Mrs. Wendlind regard her highly. They believe that she has been very much ill-treated by the local authorities.

The whole thing has been a blow to the Catholics of all Louisville as well as those of St. John's parish. Yet they have born up bravely under the strain. The people of St. John's parish will stand by their pastor, the Very Rev. Dr. Schubmann, until the incident is cleared and closed. The strain upon him this week has been great, but he has been equal to all emergencies.

Every Catholic in Louisville is anxious for this mystery to be cleared up. Feudal murder seems to have been committed. The murderer should be found and punished. This is no time for jumping at conclusions, nor for blaming police or detectives for laxity of vigilance. Reserve your judgment until all the facts are known.

For the Kellner family everybody has sympathy, but this is not the occasion for idle words. It is a time for every man and woman to sit the police in unearthing the mystery and in establishing beyond a doubt the guilt of the murderer.

Rewards amounting to $4,500 have been offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderer up to Thursday evening. Frank Fehr, a cousin of little Alma Kellner, offered $1,000; Col. John H. and and James P. Whalen offered another $1,000, while the General Council offered a reward of $2,500 for the arrest and conviction.

All late developments point to the fact that the body found is that of Alma Kellner, but the identification is not satisfactory or convincing. It is expected that Gov. Willson will offer an additional reward on the part of the State, and additional rewards may be forthcoming.

If it can be proven that little Alma Kellner was assassinated and her body buried in the sub-collar, none will be quicker to aid in avenging the crime than the Catholic people of Louisville.

MORE MEMBERS

Now in Churches of United States Says Census Report.

Advance proofs of the special United States census report show that the rate of increase in the number of religious organizations and communicants or members was much greater than the rate of increase in the population of the principle cities between 1900 and 1906. The report shows that for the area outside these cities, the rate of increase in the number of organizations was approximately the same as the rate of increase in population. The figures are taken from 160 principal cities of the country. Cities having a population of 25,000 or more in 1900 were divided into four classes; eleven cities of the first class had over 300,000 population; twenty-seven cities of the second class with between 100,000 and 300,000; forty cities of the third class with from 50,000 to 100,000, and eighty-two cities of the fourth class, having from 25,000 to 50,000 inhabitants.

The census report shows that the first class cities showed the greatest increase in the number of communicants of churches, and claims that the result is due chiefly to the greater strength of the Roman Catholic church in the cities.

MEMORY

Of the Dead Heroes of United States Navy, Army and Marines.

Military Mass Celebrated With Great Pageantry in Brooklyn.

Noted Chaplains Officiate and Many Societies Took Part.

FATHER CHIDWICK PREACHED

The eighth annual military field mass in honor of the dead soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States army and navy was celebrated on the parade grounds of the Marine Barracks, United States Navy Yard, Brooklyn, at 10 o'clock last Sunday morning. The service was held directly under the supervision of Gloucester Naval Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, assisted by the Long Island Chapter, Knights of Columbus, and the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Brooklyn and New York. The mass was supplemented with military pageantry, grand music and the firing of artillery.

The celebrant of the mass was the Rev. Father Matthew C. Gleason, U. S. N., of the Receling Ship Hancock, and formerly attached to the United States flagship Connecticut in the trip around the world. Rev. Father McGranahan, Chaplain of the Fire department of New York City, was deacon, and the Rev. Father Francis J. Sullivan, Chaplain of the Police department of New York, was sub-deacon, while the master of ceremonies was the Rev. John F. Nash, LL. D., rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart, and who for many years ministered to the sailors and marines of the navy yard.

The sermon was preached by the Very Rev. William P. Hogan, of New Haven, Ky. Father Hogan prepared Father Cronin for his first holy communion and gave him that sacrament. He has been a close friend of the present Vicar General for more than thirty-five years, and is well able to speak of Father Cronin and his career.

On Monday, June 13, Father Cronin will celebrate a solemn high mass for the children of the parish.

On this occasion the sermon will be preached by the Very Rev. Father J. L. Clark, O. P., Prior of St. Louis Bertrand's Convent. On Sunday and Monday evenings, June 12 and 13, the parochial school children will entertain Father Cronin, his friends and people of the parish with a musical and literary programme.

On Tuesday after the jubilee mass Father Cronin will be the host at a breakfast to the clergy at Seelbach's Hotel. About 200 invitations have been sent out and many of the clergy have signified their intention of being present at the mass and breakfast.

The lady of St. Patrick's church are arranging for their part in the celebration.

FESTIVE OCCASION.

Jubilee of Father Cronin Will Assemble Many Clergy.

A great gathering of priests of this and neighboring dioceses will assemble at St. Patrick's church on Tuesday, June 14, when the Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin, V. G., will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination. An elaborate musical programme has been arranged for the occasion.

The jubilee mass will begin at 10 o'clock, with Father Cronin as celebrant, of course. The Rev. Father Patrick Walsh, pastor of Sacred Heart church, will be deacon, and the Rev. Father Dominic Crane, Chaplain of Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, will be the sub-deacon. The Very Rev. Dr. George Schuhmann will be the master of ceremonies.

The sermon will be preached by the Very Rev. William P. Hogan.

In a minute the volunteer organist was at the keyboard, and as the strains of 'Holy God, We Praise Thee Name' filled the church the congregation recognized the skilled hand of the musician playing with feeling. Aspirations defeated, ambitions unfulfilled, were heard in the voluntary, and the thought came to me that at least one soul had been reclaimed. He gave his best and then went away before any one could learn his name.

"Can you play, Father? let me play.

For twenty years I played on an organ in church; do let me play tonight!"

"Father Evers was about to start the services word was received from the organist that she had been taken suddenly ill, and Father Evers announced to the congregation the news, adding, 'You must all sing out. You know the May hymns.'

They are familiar. Now all sing out." As he repeated these words a man in the audience rose and hastily following him down the aisle, said:

"I can play, Father; let me play.

For twenty years I played on an organ in church; do let me play tonight!"

The cause of home rule for Ireland has gained enormously through the death of King Edward VII., says T. P. O'Connor, M. P., and able Lieutenant of Hon. John E. Redmond, and Mr. O'Connor qualifies his statement, that King Edward wanted the question settled and would have been glad to have opened a home rule Parliament in Dublin himself if circumstances allowed it. King George V. feels grateful for the messages of sympathy to him and his royal mother by his Irish subjects. It is the first time in the history of the union between Ireland and England that even a few communities of Irishmen expressed sorrow over the death of an English King. It is believed that expressions of sympathy from his Irish subjects will do much toward inducing King George to favor the Irish masses. He would gladly have the Irish quest settled.

But the struggle in Parliament will not be decided for several weeks. Will the next general election be held in September or January? The result is open to doubt.

The Tories are divided and King George does not want to begin his reign with something akin to civil war.

Rumors of compromise are in the air, but it is difficult to see how a compromise can be devised which will satisfy both parties.

The Liberals must have the power to pass home rule for Ireland and the disestablishment of the Welsh church despite the House of Lords.

The Tories may not object to this so much as they object to other forms of legislation, and the advocates of protection or tariff reform, as they call it, are so anxious to secure protection that they are anxious to be rid of home rule for Ireland and disestablishment for Wales.

No body can forecast the future until Parliament opens. The chief discussion in the journals of the rival parties is over the proposed coronation oath. Some opinions accept the desirability of sparing the King the humiliation of insulting his 12,000,000 Catholic subjects, but enough rabid Protestantism is left to show that opinion is not unanimous and that a Ministerial measure can not pass without opposition in Parliament. When things become normal the Liberal programme probably will not show any change in the main purpose or tactics, but there may be a change of dates for the consideration of important measures. It is believed that a bill dealing with an appropriation for the new King probably will meet with less opposition than on the previous occasion, everybody being anxious to spare him unnecessary worry at the beginning of his reign.

GENTLE REMINDER.

Superiors of Catholic schools, colleges and academies should remember that the homes into which Catholic newspapers go are the homes from which their pupils are drawn. This is a reminder that the season for advertising schools, colleges and academies is at hand.

ATTENTION, DEMOCRATS.

All Democrats should remember that a primary for the purpose of nominating a Democratic Congressman for this district will be held in Louisville and the County of Jefferson next Tuesday. The polls in the various precincts will remain open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Every Democrat owes it to the city, State and nation to go to his polling place and to vote for the one he considers the best man.

RECKLESS MOTORING.

The collision of the Salvage Corps' automobile and a Broadway trolley car last Sunday emphasizes the fact that the Fire department and Salvage Corps attempt to make too much speed. Every time there is the reckless endangering of life and limb. Strenuous measures ought to be taken to prevent this criminal negligence. Only a few months ago a Louisville Fire Chief was killed en route to a fire, and on more than one occasion firemen and members of the Salvage Corps have been seriously injured. The General Council ought to save our citizens from danger to their lives and limbs and save the city from damage suits.

AWAITS KING'S PLEASURE.

Hon. William Redmond, M. P., has written a letter to the British Prime Minister about the coronation oath so offensive to all Catholic subjects of the English King. Mr. Redmond says in his epistle:

"You may remember that upon the second reading of the Catholic disability bill, moved last year, you spoke very favorably of removing from the royal accession oath the words which are so very offensive to Catholics. The view of your so well expressed met with, I believe, favor from all quarters of the House, with some few exceptions. Indeed most of those who did not favor my bill as a whole expressed themselves in favor of removing the words in the royal declaration of which complaint is so justly made by Catholics throughout the empire and the world. Under the present sad circumstances this matter becomes immediately pressing, and I venture to ask you to take such steps as may be necessary to relieve the now King from the obligation of using language, at the commencement of his reign which must deeply wound the pride and outrage the feelings of so many people everywhere."

The matter of the objectionable words in the coronation oath is now up to King George and his Ministers. If he refuses to take the oath he will be King none the less. If he swallows it he will lose the respect of 12,000,000 of his own subjects and of many more millions throughout the world.

ITALIANS AS CITIZENS.

The editor of the New York World pays a well deserved tribute to the Italian contingent in the United States. The editorial was in response to the query, "Why are Italians classed as undesirable citizens?" In response the editor of the World says:

"Usually it is safe to say such classification is made by unthinking persons unacquainted with the sterling qualities of the great mass of Italian immigrants. In the vast numbers which reach these shores from Italy there are undoubtedly many whom the mother country is glad to lose, but this class makes up but a very small proportion of the whole. Generally the Italian immigrant is industrious, peaceful and thrifty, courteously considerate of the rights of others and eager to improve the condition of himself and his family. The success of these Italians and the places they are winning in industrial and commercial America constitute the best defence against the slanders of which our correspondent writes."

Those who are acquainted with the Italians in Louisville will endorse every word of the New York editor. The Raffos, Montedonicos, Gattos,

WILL EXTEND TOUR.

The visit to America of Hon. John Redmond, Thomas P. O'Connor and Joseph Devlin, who are the leaders of the Irish Nationalists in Parliament, will be more extended than was at first expected. So many invitations from all sections of the United States have been received by the delegates that it has been practically decided, after the big cities have been covered, that each will take a section of the country and cover as many points as possible, telling the people of America of the struggle for home rule and the prospects.

GREAT CATHOLIC CENTERS.

United States census reports for 1906 say that the cities in the United States showing the largest percentage of Roman Catholic communicants are Fall River, Mass., 86.5 per cent.; San Francisco, 81.6 per cent.; New Orleans, 79.7 per cent.; New York, 76.9 per cent.; Providence, R. HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Next Tuesday night is the time for a meeting of Division 1.

Division 4 will not meet until a week from Monday night.

Division 3 will hold its first June meeting on Monday night.

There are now twenty-five divisions of the Ladies' Auxiliary in Indiana, and all are prospering.

Division 2 held a well attended meeting last night. Considerable routine business was disposed of.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Marion County will have a grand quarterly initiation at Indianapolis on June 12.

The Ancient Order and Ladies' Auxiliary of Lowell, Mass., will have their reunion tomorrow in Lexington Park.

Division 1 of Milwaukee will have a class of sixty for initiation July 5, which will bring the membership over 700.

Mrs. John Arthur, State President, has organized a splendid auxiliary at Kokomo, Ind., starting with sixty members.

The Hibernians of Racine are arranging for a class initiation to be given shortly, when the work will be done by the Milwaukee degree mark over 700.

A great revival in the work of the Ancient Order was planned at a recent gathering held at Kenosha, Wis., at which more than 200 members were present.

Ladies' Auxiliary 4 of Buffalo last week celebrated their fifteenth anniversary with a very pleasing entertainment and sumptuous banquet for the members and their friends.

Members of Division 11 of New York City attended memorial mass celebrated for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the Irish Carmelite church last Sunday.

The violet social of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Milford, N. H., was a most gratifying success. The prizes awarded ticket holders included Rosary beads, basket of violets and umbrella.

The four divisions of Manchester, N. H., took part in the Memorial day parade there, thus showing their loyalty to the dead heroes who fought the nation's battles, many of whom were of their race and faith.

Brooklyn Hibernians will have a monster field day celebration tomorrow afternoon at Dexter Park. Matt McGrath will throw the weight, and in addition to hurling and football matches there will be athletic events almost without number.

PROMOTED FOR MERIT.

Four efficient Irish-Americans were promoted to positions of responsibility in the New York Fire department last week. Battalion Chiefs Patrick Maher and William T. Beggin were made Deputy Chiefs and Captains John Davin and William Clark were raised to the dignity of Battalion Chiefs. In making the promotions Fire Commissioner Walsh impressed on the men that their preferment was due to their own merit alone, and that the taint of favoritism which had been hovering over the department would be eliminated.

MOTION PICTURES.

For next week the Casino, Princess and Columbia have arranged special programmes for their patrons and will present the latest and best films ever seen in Louisville. They will include historic, dramatic and comedy numbers and will be full of interest for those who would spend a pleasant hour. At each there will be new illustrated songs.

FORTY HOURS.

The Forty Hours' adoration are announced for tomorrow at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Washington and Buchanan streets, beginning at the high mass and continuing until Tuesday. Rev. Daniel O'Sullivan will be assisted by a number of local priests, and it is expected the services will be largely attended.

BECOMES BARRISTER.

Edward E. Keely, one of the most popular young men in the city, prominent in Y. M. I. circles and a recent graduate at law, has become associated with Attorneys Slattery & Flinch, and has opened offices at 237 South Fifth street. Mr. Keely is intelligent, energetic and forceful. His early success at the bar is predicted.

ST. COLUMBA'S GRADUATES.

The closing exercises of St. Columba's parochial school will take place on the evening of Wednesday, June 16. There will be five graduates this year, the first graduates of the school, and the Rev. Father Kalaher is very proud of their good work.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Braiding remains in favor.

Side jabs still hold their own.

In millinery as in dresses vivid coloring is the rage.

The usual madras and summer veils are seen in tailored waists.

An airy fashion is the use of tullo as a trimming for hats or in the hair.

Neck ruching of two contrasting colors of maline is one of the novelties.

Fill collar vary in width two or three to four or even five inches in width.

Suede gloves are worn for deep mourning, then glace gloves for the lighter.

Large round or square Chantilly veils will be used with the big bats or toques.

Some of the checked batik silks are unusually attractive. They are to be had in a wide range of colors.

Sleeves tucked in groups with bandings showing handwork separating the groups are seen in some of the new gowns.

The summer bats are unusually attractive in themselves, combining the charm of simplicity and graceful lines which will be generally becoming.

Waist lines have descended to normal positions, with here and there some slight disposition to remain a trifle above, with the skirt falling straight in empire style, but this fashion is rapidly passing.

AGED LEADER COMING.

Justin McCarthy, Irish historian, novelist, publicist and ex-member of Parliament, is here and hearty at eighty years of age, and expects to visit the United States this fall. Mr. McCarthy was for several years leader of the Irish party, and to this day the wisdom of his counsel is acknowledged by other leaders.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Dispose of Many Routine Matters at Its Meeting.

Mackin Council held a well attended meeting on Monday night with President John T. Kenney presiding. The greater part of the evening was spent in the transaction of routine affairs. The Opera Committee made a partial report, which indicates that the receipts from the four performances of "Among the Stars" will bring quite a nice sum to the council's exchequer.

It was also announced that an initiation would be held this month, but the exact date will be fixed later. All the members are showing interest in the proposed excursion to Niagara Falls in August. Reasonable rates have been secured and the members and their friends are anticipating a very enjoyable trip.

It is expected that a big class will be put through at the approaching initiation. The time is almost at hand for the election of delegates to the Grand Council, and Mackin has so many hustling workers that the delegates are hard to pick in advance. Several interesting addresses were made by the members.

LADIES' AUXILIARY

Are Arranging to Co-operate With Hibernian Friends.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held a fairly well attended meeting on Wednesday night. Miss Rose Sweeny occupied the chair. A number of officers and members were missing on account of taking part in the opera, "Pirates of Penzance." Three new members were elected and many routine matters were taken up and disposed of.

The committee of ladies interested in the success of the annual outing to be given under the auspices of the County Board next month met with that body at Dougherty & McElliott's office on Thursday evening. On Tuesday evening the committee will meet at Bertrand Hall with a committee from Division 4 to arrange further details for the joint picnic to be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary and Division 4.

DEATH OF PATRICK GAULY.

Patrick Gauly, a respected citizen of the West End, died at his home, 2122 Bank street, at 2:15 o'clock Monday afternoon, and his funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church on Wednesday morning. Mr. Gauly was born in Hardin county and was of Irish descent. He had lived in Louisville more than forty years. For sixteen years he had been in the employment of the United States Government as a storekeeper ganger. He was identified with the men's societies in St. Cecilia's parish, and was a charter member of Branch 14, Catholic Knights of America. The deceased is survived by his wife and seven children. The children are James J. Michael Jr., and John B. Gauly; Mrs. Mary Ferguson, Misses Alice A., Annie, and Mary Gauly. His death is generally regretted.

HONOR FOR FATHER CURRAN.

The Right Rev. Bishop Chatard, of Indianapolis, has appointed the Rev. Father Charles Curran, who has been rector of Holy Trinity church, New Albany, since the death of Father Kelly, Dean of the New Albany district of the Indianapolis diocese. In this office he succeeds the late Father Failler. Father Curran is a native of New York State, but has lived in Indiana since early manhood. Since his arrival in New Albany he has made many warm friends among all classes. His pre-ferment is a recognition of his scholarly attainments.

RIVERVIEW.

Riverview Park enjoyed large and pleased crowds this week and continues to grow in favor as a family resort. The many attractions are popular and furnish amusement for both old and young, and the free afternoon and evening concerts delight music lovers. For next week another high class vaudeville bill has been announced with matinees daily at 2:15 o'clock. A feature is the restaurant and its excellent service, which is now attracting many dinner and supper parties. Riverview is an ideal spot to spend an afternoon or evening.

MANY CONFIRMATIONS.

The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donaghue had a very busy day last Sunday. In the morning he confirmed a class of sixty-three children and several adults at St. John's. In the afternoon he administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of seventy-two children at St. Anthony's. On Monday morning he confirmed a class of forty-six boys and girls at the Church of Our Lady in Portland.

LETTER CARRIERS' ANNUAL.

The Falls City branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers, numbering 165 members, will give its annual outing Tuesday at Fontaine Ferry Park, when the postmen and their families will enjoy a picnic. Everything has been done to provide amusement for all and the general public is invited. The proceeds will go to the sick benefit fund maintained by the Louisville carriers.

GENEROUS TO CHURCH.

Clarence Mackey, the millionaire capitalist, has sent a check for $1,000 to the Rev. Thomas Tuham, of Reno, Nev., for his new church fund. His mother recently sent a check for $2,000 for the same purpose. Mr. Mackey also assisted in building the first church at Reno.

John McCloskey

And His Milwaukee Brewers Here For Four Games.

Populin John McCloskey and his Milwaukee Brewers will open a four-game series with the Colonels, beginning this afternoon, and big crowds are assured, as "Stony" McGlynn, Dan McCann, Harry Clark and others of the team are big favorites here with the fans. McGlynn, especially so, as he always has a ready answer for the "kids" in the stand of bleachers, and his pitching last year came mighty near knocking Louisville out of the flag, which will be raised this afternoon with appropriate ceremonies.

The most pleasing feature concerning Louisville's present slump has been the disposition on the part of the fans to refrain from "knocking" and to depend on President Grayson for a strong club. This is as it should be, for no pennant was ever won by "knocking," and in addition the fans should turn out in large numbers and root as if we were leading the race.

CONCORDIA EXCURSION.

The Concordia Singing Society will conduct an excursion to Ferdinand, Ind., via the Southern railway and New Ferdinand railroad, a week from tomorrow, Sunday, June 12. The fare for the round trip is $1.50, with half-fare for children under twelve years. Children less than five years old will be allowed to travel free. The train will leave the Union Depot, Seventh and the river, at 7 o'clock sharp.

Returning it will leave Ferdinand at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. All of the excursions conducted by the Concordia have proven enjoyable.

This year it is proposed to make the occasion a source of pleasure greater than ever before.

POPULAR HIBERNIAN DEAD.

Stephen C. Toomey, a well known member of Division 4, A. O. H., and a lifelong resident of St. Louis Bertrand parish, died at the home of his mother, 715 West St. Catherine street, on Monday evening. The deceased is survived by his mother, two brothers, John and Edward Toomey, and two sisters, Mrs. John Murphy, of Grimes, Iowa, and Mrs. John Devlin, of Louisville. The deceased was held in high esteem by all who knew him and hundreds of friends attended his funeral, which took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church on Wednesday morning.

FONTAINE FERRY PARK.

Fontaine Ferry's attractions for next week are again headed by a promising vaudeville bill. The bookings for this part of the park entertainment include Laskay's eleven imperial musicians; Henry Horton and company in a rural comedy, "Uncle Tom's Dilemma;" Mildred Morton, Carbrey Brothers, Savan and Warren and the Elefograph. There will also be another programme of new and popular music given by Gregg's band in the daily free concerts.
